YOUR SCHOOL LETTERHEAD HERE

Dear Parents,

For many years, Wisconsin schools were closed for three days in the Fall for an educators' conference. That conference has been shuttered for a few years now, and we've truly missed the information and connections we gained through meeting educators from across the state, as well as national educational leaders.

I am writing to tell you that a inspiring conference has been organized for Spring 2019 and that we have decided to close our school on April 10, 11 and 12 so that our entire school team can attend. We do not take this action lightly, and do so only because we know that our whole school community will reap huge benefits from programming that includes:

- Keynote experiences from national educational thought-leader Kevin Honeycutt
- Sessions on Teacher Leadership, Project-Based Learning and many more!
- Multiple diverse Pre-Conference options

Today's fast-paced world needs schools that are up-to-date on curriculum, technology, and innovation that keeps students' skills strong and ready for college and workplace demands. We know that the sheer information and energy that will come back to our school—especially to your children—make attending this conference the right decision for everybody.

Thank you for your trust and for your ongoing support.

We are deeply thankful.

Sincerely,

School Leader
